

Hunter Rich

A dedicated Associate Wealth Planner at Nold Bryant Planning and Investments, Hunter derives immense satisfaction from crafting remarkable experiences for our individual, family, and business owner clients.

Hunter's mission is simple: to offer white glove service and support whether you're in need of guidance on your existing accounts, a review of your financial goals, or planning for significant life events.

Hunter's journey into the world of finance commenced in 2015, marking the genesis of an exciting and fulfilling career. It all began as a teller in the banking industry, where he transitioned into loan compliance, focusing on commercial and real estate lending. The desire to continuously learn and evolve naturally steered him towards personal finance.

Beyond his professional life, his heart finds its truest joy on his beloved hobby farm. Here, he cultivated a deep affection for smoking meats and nurturing an array of animals. This love for the outdoors is beautifully mirrored in his family life, shared with his wonderful wife, Goldie, and their two cherished sons, Malachi, and Tucker. Together, they find solace and joy in camping trips, hiking adventures, and the simple joys of farm life. These precious moments rejuvenate Hunter's spirit and fuel his dedication to bring his best to every facet of his life.
